The Taste of Carecells

One of the most anticipated dates in our church calendar arrives in October: Carecell Sunday! Our Church is 43 years old, and for 34 of those years it has invested in Carecells. Today there are 166 across the city, growing every year, and most of our active congregation belongs to one. We love and celebrate what God is doing through our Carecells.

If you haven't yet been part of a Carecell, this is a good time to find out what the fuss is about. It's a bit like Hyderabadi biryani though – there's only so much you can explain about its distinct flavour to someone who hasn't tasted it.

So, what sets a Carecell apart? Almost every other church seems to have something like it, after all. Some may call it a cottage prayer meeting, or a Bible study or a life group... a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, perhaps?

Four key features make a Carecell different:

- 1. Leader-led: While a typical cottage prayer meeting might be led by the priest/pastor, Carecell meetings are entrusted to trained, faithful Carecell leaders.
- 2. Discussion: A meeting has five segments: Worship, Testimonies (Body Life Ministry), Bible Discussion, (Conversational) Prayer, and Fellowship. Of these, the Bible Discussion gets the most time, and it is perhaps the biggest difference. There is no one “preaching” or sharing a devotion – not even the Carecell leader (surprise!). Instead, everyone sits around and discusses the study material. Quite unlike a church service. And no, you don't need to be a theologian: Carecell members are regular people like you and me.
- 3. Care: Most members love their “Care” cell primarily because they get cared for. Members walk with one another through the joys and sorrows of life, experiencing genuine care and building lasting friendships.
- 4. Multiplication: Carecells are designed to be small, so that everyone gets individual attention. And when they get bigger, they multiply to form other Carecells.

Like telling an Adidas from an Abibas, these are pointers you could use to check if what you’ve experienced is a Carecell. And like every true Hyderabadi who would immediately make out whether something is authentic Hyderabadi biryani or not, here’s inviting you to check out the real taste of Carecells.

There are Carecells for children, youth, families, ladies, men and institutions – and quite possibly, one somewhere near you. To locate one, do visit our welcome desk.

“For we are to God the pleasing aroma of Christ among those who are being saved and those who are perishing.” 2 Corinthians 2:15
